

PROGRAM GUIDELINES

The Supporting Black Canadian Communities Initiative (SBCCI) was created by the Federal government through Employment and Social Development Canada (ESDC) to help increase the capacity of grassroots not-for-profit organizations serving Black communities in Canada.

Using an intermediary delivery model, the initiative aims to provide funding through a fair and transparent process, and otherwise support Black community organizations across Canada to increase their organizational capacity in the areas of:

1. Facilitating access to funding from a more diverse range of funding sources
2. Enhancing organizational governance to provide greater organizational stability and improved planning and oversight functions, with specific focus on the following:
 - Leadership and stewardship
 - Communication and transparency
 - Continuous learning and growth
 - Empowerment and accountability
 - Service and fairness
 - Accomplishment and measurement
3. Enhancing operational management effectiveness and efficiency

The SBCCI has four components:

1. Supporting the establishment of Canadian Institute for People of African Descent
2. Funding capital projects through the Capital Assist Project (CAP)
3. Funding capacity building projects through the Capacity Building Project (CBP)
4. Providing funds for emerging priorities

These program guidelines explain component 3, the CBP. With funding from the Government of Canada, the CBP makes grants available to Black-led and/or Black-serving grassroots organizations across Canada.

The grants are administered by three intermediary organizations (Black Business Initiative, Groupe 3737 and Tropicana Community Services) and are solely to increase the organizational capacity of the grantee organizations.
